

David Bellamy Says:

"For over 10 years I have been working with a grass roots "fair trading" organisation called And Albert Foundation. They have Educated, Enthralled, and Empowered tens of thousands of people across the rich world to help keep local art, crafts and trades and local agriculture, alive and in good heart in the poorest countries"

We need to bring back that awe in creation to youngsters saturated by a ready made and instant technology which prevents them getting to grips with Nature and with each other.

We are part of trying to bring back an ethical philosophy of caring for our planet with all it's life forms.
